

DOMESTIC INTRUDER ALARM SYSTEMS

Thinking of your home security and not sure where to go and who to use? Then look no further with our full comprehensive knowledge of all the latest security products on the market, be it a standard stand alone alarm kit to an addressable system which can call you on an outside telephone line to let you know that your alarm has been activated. We can fit them all why don't you make that "If only" to "I'm glad I". Below are one or two systems you could have installed among many.

You can even comprehensively cover not only your house but your full property including your garden, garages, drive way etc. with automated gate controls, pressure sensors and beam activators.

If you have completed the whole of your house décor then we can even install wireless systems ensuring no damage to your decorations.

Having an alarm system fitted to your property will bring your home insurance payment down, and opportunistic thieves are far more likely to go for houses with no security than one with an up to date system.

Many alarm companies will try to persuade you into buying a monitored alarm under a service contract. These type of systems are fine for big premises but can be very costly, approaching £300 per year whereas a complete new system may only cost the same. All our alarm systems come with a comprehensive 3 year guarantee on all installation and all materials come complete with manufactures guarantees.
